

Client Alert: The Biden-Harris Administration: What Energy and Telecommunications Policies Will It Likely Pursue?

January 27, 2021

The inauguration of President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris—coupled with the installation of a Democratic-majority Senate and House—means new directions for U.S. energy and telecommunication policy, and changes that are likely to impact our clients. As the Biden-Harris Administration begins, we pause to offer a few thoughts on what we may expect over the next four years. While we have no crystal ball, we do have decades of experience in Washington and we hope that our informed speculation will be helpful. We look forward to discussing—and experiencing with you—these momentous years for our nation.
